Printing

HP Infrared Printer and Printing Accessories

The battery-powered infrared printer is a revolutionary companion for your new calculator. Because it operates with an invisible infrared beam, no cord is necessary to connect it to the calculator. Producing hard copies in the field or in your office couldn't be easier. And this improved version offers easier-to-read output and automatic shutoff for extended battery life.

Operation of the infrared printer is easy, too. Simply aim your calcultor at the printer (from up to 18 inches away), send print instructions, and you get a neat, clean copy of your calculations. You can print a complete record of your work, or select and print only what you need.

Just four AA alkaline batteries give the infrared printer go-anywhere portability. Or to extend battery life, plug in the optional AC/DC adapter, (page 8).

HP 82240B HP Infrared Printer

Includes: Infrared printer, four AA alkaline batteries, one roll of printer paper, and User's Guide.

HP 82175A Thermal Paper for the HP 82240B and HP 82240A Infrared Printers

Includes: 6 rolls, 2¼" x 80'
(5.7 cm x 25m) black.

Memory Cards for the HP 48 Series

Battery-backed RAM Cards

Take advantage of additional RAM. Develop large programs and store more data in your HP 48GX or HP 48SX.

Choose the memory configuration you need. Add to the main memory of the HP 48GX or the HP 48SX or use it as an electronic disk.

Save your information, even when you unplug the RAM card from the HP 48GX or the HP 48SX. Each card is powered by its own long-lasting battery.

HP 82215A 128-Kbyte Battery-backed RAM Card for the HP 48GX/SX

Includes: 128-Kbyte battery-backed RAM card, CR2016 battery, installation card.

HP 82216A 1-MB Battery-backed RAM Card for the HP 48GX, Independent Memory Only

Includes: 1-MB battery-backed RAM Card, CR2016 battery, installation card.

Memory

Flash Disk Cards

Solid-state mass storage in a PCMCIA version 2.0 card that you plug into your palmtop. Plug it in and it works just like a hard disk drive, enabling you to store your own data and programs and access them just as you would from a hard disk drive. No battery backup required.

Stacker Compression Software Included

Version 3.0 of the Stacker brand automatic data compression software is preloaded on your flash disk card. Stacker instantly and safely doubles the capacity of your flash disk and it operates automatically – expanding your files when they're read from the disk and recompressing them again when they are written back to the disk.

HP F1215C 6-MB Flash Disk Card

Includes: 6-MB flash disk card in case, 3 1/2 inch disk with software, User's Guide.

SupportPack (USA Only)

Accessories for the HP 200LX/100LX only

Express exchange – HP's overnight product replacement plan

HP SupportPack is like having a duplicate HP product in your back room. If your product ever has a problem that our technicians can't fix over the phone in a few minutes, we'll ship you an identical model right then and there. Once you receive your replacement the next business day, you simply put the defective unit in the same box, and send it back to us–prepaid by HP, of course.

Full three-year coverage

HP SupportPack is a new form of equipment protection that covers HP products for a full three years from the date of hardware purchase (1 year warranty + 2 additional years). While HP products rarely experience problems, HP SupportPack offers a quick and easy solution to get you back in business if problems do occur. It's your worry-free guarantee.

H5465A HP SupportPack

Includes: registration information, terms and conditions of contract.

Note: HP SupportPack must be purchased within 30 days of purchasing the HP 200LX/100LX.

Available in the USA only. Check with your dealer for availability elsewhere.
